FROM THE DESK OF MR. DEBRICK

Some of you have heard of the Beloit College mindset list. Each year professors from Beloit College in Wisconsin put together a list of the cultural touchstones that shape the lives of students entering college this fall. For instance, for the college class of 2014 you would see things on the list such as: they never twisted the coiled handset wire aimlessly around their wrists while chatting on the phone, Leno and Letterman have always been trading insults on opposing networks, they've never recognized that pointing to their wrists was a request for the time of day, Czechoslovakia has never existed, Bud Selig has always been the Commissioner of Major League Baseball, Ruth Bader Ginsburg has always sat on the Supreme Court, they have never worried about a Russian missile strike on the U.S.

Go to <http://www.beloit.edu/mindset/> to see the full list, even for the last several years. It can be interesting for people as they get older (yes, that is me!) to think of many of these things just happened yesterday, and yet college freshman have not lived through the history to get to this point. The passage of time and history can be a beautiful thing. Instead of lamenting it, we can rejoice in the history that we lived. The best point of history that all college freshmen should know is the point of Jesus' death on the cross. The forgiveness and eternal life as a gift from God is the part of history that can never be over-taught or forgotten by any generation.

MoDOT TO CLOSE JUNGERMANN ROAD ACROSS 94

http://www.modot.org/stlouis/news_and_information/District6News.shtml?action=displaySSI&newsId=59546

ST. LOUIS – The Missouri Department of Transportation and its contractor, Fred Weber Inc., will temporarily close Jungermann Road across Route 94 at 5 a.m. Tuesday, September 21, 2010 to construct a portion of the new outer roads for Route 364.

Jungermann Road will close between the Burger King entrance and Route 94 on the north side and between Route 94 and the Walmart entrance on the south side. The roadway across Route 94 is scheduled to reopen in eight weeks, just before Thanksgiving.

There will also be no direct access to Centre Pointe Drive from Jungermann Road on the north side of Route 94. To ensure access to businesses on Centre Pointe Drive between Jungermann Road and Harvest Drive, Centre Pointe Drive will return to two way traffic before Jungermann Road closes.

Traffic will still be able to get through on Route 94. Drivers can use Harvester Road and Queensbrooke or McClay to travel to businesses on the north side of Route 94. Drivers can use Harvester Road and Old Route 94 to travel to businesses on the south side of Route 94. Signs will direct drivers around the detour and to major shops (Schnucks, Walmart and Kohls) on either side of the intersection. This is part of a $44 million project to extend Route 364 from east of Jungermann Road to west of Central School Road in St. Charles County. Crews will also construct outer roads build Route 364 over Woodstone and Jungermann Roads and construct a bridge to carry Central School Road traffic over the new route. There are additional projects to extend Route 364 all the way to Mid Rivers Mall Drive. The project is scheduled to be complete in 2012.
